

About WHCRMS

The Washington Health Care Risk Management Society was founded in 1983 and is an affiliate chapter of the American Society for Healthcare Risk Management (ASHRM) of the American Hospital Association. WHCRMS is dedicated to promoting and enhancing the professional practice of Healthcare Risk Management through education, networking, and member services. The primary purpose of WHCRMS is to advance the development and role of the professional practice of health care risk management by: Conducting educational programs and activities to strengthen and develop hospital and health care risk management programs and promote professional development; Providing a forum for the free exchange of ideas and information of mutual interest among the membership; Acting as a central source of information in the State of Washington on new developments and trends in health care risk management; and Promoting the specific interest of health care risk managers through participation in interdisciplinary conferences and forums.
